sara is an experienced stylist specialising in commercial and mail-order fashion work. she initially trained as a fashion journalist and previously had full-time positions on elle and the guardian.

sara is superb at analysing and interpreting key trends, and at translating these in her accessory sourcing and styling. her extensive experience (and expert pinning skills!) means that she is able to achieve an immaculate and polished look when styling garments of every quality .

sara can source a wide variety of props (whether it's beach balls in the middle of winter, or a christmas tree in july), and is always happy to offer suggestions for locations etc. she has travelled extensively, and is equally at home shooting in a london studio, a barren desert or tropical beach.

sara is extremely popular with clients and teams alike, and she invariably secures regular repeat bookings. hard-working, diligent, organised, focused, easy-going, friendly, cheerful, positive - an asset to any team.
